from the person of a prisoner and failing to return them; with illegally collecting and appropriating to their own use witness fees in an amount exceeding $1,500; with failing to account to the city for more than $400 whice lifense fees; with falsifying the public records; with compromising court cases contrary to law, and many more equally serious offences. Among other things the auditors report as follows: We herewith submit a tabulation which shows cases wherein persons arrosted on view have been taxed, and amounts collected from them for witness fees when the records fail to show that a single witness was called upon to testify; also cases wherein officers testified and the fees for same collected and not returned to the city as they properly should be, and also, where a number of defendants appear in one case the fees for each witness have been taxed up to each individual defendant, thus extorting sumulative fees in utter disregard to $100 the fees that the statutes; also concerning court sorts, jail and workhouse commitments, that out of $3.331.08 collected, there is a balance unnecounted for of $1.422.78. One singular feature connected with the witness fee receipt book in present use is the fact that of 3.138 witnesses supposed to have testified, the meagre number of iffty-two names appear in the column devoted to the names of witnesses, while the insignificant number of twenty-five witnesses collected and signed for the fees paid thom.

One of the greatest points developed durwitnesses collected and signed for the fees paid them.

One of the greatest points developed during this examination of the Mayor's books that we wish to note particularly, is the vicious, if not to say criminally careless, manner in which the original docket is kept. The entries there'n made are by lead pencil, easily erased, and the records faisified thereby, and the evidence is not wanting to show that a gum eraser is one of the chief implements in use in that office.

The auditors are not yet through their investigations, and their linal report will be submitted to the general auditing committee, by whom it will be brought before Councils with a recommendation that legal proceedings be instituted promptly.

A mass meeting of the pupils, graduates, and friends of Grammar School 35 at 60 West Thirteenth street was held in the old Twentysecond Reg'ment Armory yesterday afternoon, to protest against the proposed destruction of the school. Alderman John Morris called the meeting to order, and George Starr, ex-Commissioner of Immigration, was made Chairman. Gen. Martin T. McMahon. candidate for man. Gen. Martin T. McMahon. candidate for Senator against Lispenard Stewart in the Eighth district, nd Alfred R Conkling. Republican candidate for Assemblyman in the Seventh district, made addresses.

Alderman Morris offered a resolution requesting the Board of Education to furnish accommodations for the pupils of 35: also a resolution from the pupils and graduates of 35 and the citizens of the Filteenth ward protesting against the destruction of the old building until a new one is secured. These resolutions were passed with shouts.

At the Board of Education it is maintained that there are efficient temporary accommodations for the students of 35. They say it will cost nearly $20,000 to repair 35, and that inside of twelve months there will probably be a demand for a new building. They consider it the best policy not to repair 35, but to crect a new building large enough for the pupils of 35 and for Grammar School 10, which is now in Wooster street.

Labor and Wages.

At a meeting of striking weavers of the Narragansett Mill. Fall River, yesterday morning the was voted to remain out until Monday, when another meeting will be held. The Weavers' Inton will hold a special meeting on Wednes £ay night to consider the question of supporting the strikers. Seventy-five laborers on the extension of the Woonsocket, R. I., water works to Manville struck yesterday morning for weekly payments.

Five hundred Italian sewer laborers at Newton, Mass., have struck. They claim that money is long overdue them. Trouble is expected.

The starchers in the laundry of Miller, Hall & Hartwell's collar factory in Troy went on strike yesterday morning, demanding three cents a dozen for machine work. The present rate is one and three-quarters cents. The firm offered the girls $9,$10, and $11 a week, but the offer was not accepted. Starching machines have recently been introduced in the factory.

Policeman Sullivan Quits.

Policeman Michael J. Sullivan of the Charles street station resigned yesterday afternoon. Sullivan is the policeman whose actions Bullivan is the policeman whose actions in the last few days have led to the beliet that he is demented. He was appointed on the force last summer, and sent to the West Thirty-seventh street station. He was transferred to the Charles street station, and fined thirty days pay for assaulting a colored girl. Several complaints were made against him at the Charles street station.

were made against him at the Charles street station.

Last Tuesday night he disappeared from his post in Fourteenth street. He was found at his home the next day. Then Superintendent Murray suspended him. Yesterday afternoon he reported for duty. When Capt. Copeland notified Superintendent Murray he was ordered to continue Sullivan's suspension. He dold Sullivan so, and Sullivan threw his shield on the Captain's desk and loft the station house.

Dr. Burchard's Will.

The will of the Rev. Dr. Samuel D. Burchard divides his estate between his sons, Thomas H. Burchard, Lewis S. Burchard, and Roswell B. Burchard, his stepsons, Henry, William J. and James N. Leeds, and his stepdaughter Mary J. French. The will leaves some family Mary J. French. The will leaves some family portraits to his three sons. Roswell gots his Baltie" Bible, and Lewis his pulpit libble. Several portraits are given to his stepdaughter, Mary J. French. Such silverware as his wife, deceased, had before his marriage to her is given to his stepchildren. His books and manuscript sermons are to be divided among his sons. The house, 24 West Fortieth street, is to be partitioned among the children and stepchildren. The residue of the estate is to be divided between his three sons. Thomas H. receives one-lifth, Lewis S., two-fifths, and Roswell B., two-fifths.
